

From the Principal's Desk...

We are currently preparing for our 2010 Presentation Night which will be held on Thursday 9th December commencing at 6pm at the school. Students are working on several group and individual items for the occasion. If any student has ten ribbons could they please bring these in as soon as possible so we can begin ordering Principal's Awards. I would like to welcome all members of the Kelly's Plains School Community to come along and share in our students' achievements for 2010.

Our speeches continue this week. I continue to be impressed with the variety of topics and quality of presentations being delivered each week. The last group of students to present their speeches will be at next Friday's Assembly (26th November).

This week our school has become a Sun Smart School. Our school's sun smart policy was accepted by the NSW Cancer Council recently. This means that our students must wear a hat when in the playground. As always, there is also sunscreen in our classrooms for students to use when they need to.

I would like to congratulate Oscar Alcorn and Angus Smith on the completion of their EGATS program. Both Oscar and Angus worked through a modified Maths program throughout the last ten weeks. The program concluded with a day at Thalgarrah last Monday. The boys will present a report at Friday's Assembly

Finally, I would like to thank Miss Susan Elgar for her work over the last few weeks. Miss Elgar has been working with Lower Division as part of her final practicum. I wish Miss Elgar well with her future career in teaching.

Have a great week!
Brad Hunt
